I can fall away
I'm a teenage answer to nothing when you always change the way you talk in this time away I have never felt more wanted but it always comes with bad returns and I've never felt this rhythm when I only wanted more than you until I fall and I feel you and it's everything I need when this world is falling down and I know you when everything i see in this world is falling down again and you're all the same you just turn me over and over but you'll never get the best of me in this time away I have never felt more wanted
you just fade away until there's nothing left everything you wanted back again when all I say is stay the same until i return, you know you're wrong
