If i would stop and take a look around it's tragic everywhere i'm seeing broken hearts and broken dreams
when no one ever takes the time to check you're moving everybody's on their own together losing out
why does this look so familiar now, it's all the same I just want this to be over now
and it feels like i've been down before
over and again
and i never wanted to be on my own
and it feels the same as yesterday
nothing ever moves on, it never moves on
