Alright, alright tonight's the night it's on tonight, we're out tonight all for yourself, all on your own i saw you turn, don't let this burn the moment's right you own this now
she looks so right
do you know her name, or is it baby and have you heard of all the things she loves and will you be the one to hold forever or will you call on everyone she knows and i knew that this would happen but it's how it always feels even thought we're both pretending we still tell ourselves it's real still i'll be saying the moment's right you own this now
it's on again
new prey to tend
