There is this girl that i know, She is like none other girl

She's set aside, at least in my mind. She seems to control my world

And when she walks into the room, my heart falls down and bleeds

A seductive glance set in her eyes stares directly back into mine

Her raven hair sails in the air when the wind comes passing by

She's always dressed in black, she's got the palest face

And when she's set in mind, my thoughts take off and race

'Cause Sheila is a vampire

Always dressed in black and into the night

She's got the palest skin, i want my blood to touch her lips

I know what Sheila is Black velvet veil, black fingernails

See how they scraped and dug

Snakes in her eyes, in between her thighs

She kisses me with a forked tongue

And then she slithers in , the black and red lights flash

Her mouth is open wide, her tongue adores my gash

Chorus

I know this girl that lives far away, she won't be found here in the day

She lives at night when the moon is bright, or when the sky is grey

And when she seeps into my world, my heart lays down
and bleeds

Seductive glances we both shall give as darkness comes pourin' in

She comes alive here in my room, she's always dressed in black

She's got the palest face

And when the candles burn, becomes our meeting place

Chorus
