I've had it all you can't take it away
I've has it all take me away

You look so beautiful with your hand around your wrist
I can see it so clearly, that we're starting to miss
Our every single exit is becoming so close
I can see it in your eye, I can see it start to Give it up, give it up she's leaving

Give it up, give it up she's got to be screaming
(got to be screaming)
She's got to be screaming
(got to be screaming)

Step back, step back
And take the fight
No second chance to make this right
Until, until we reach the shore
This argument will cast us ashore
