You know I never want to hurt you
Don't know why I'd ever want to
Oh ho oh...

There's no comfort in another face
Are you gonna let it go to waste
Oh ho oh

I keep on trying
But how can I buy in
When they don't compare to you
No nooo

I'm running out of patience
Tired of imitations
Looking for someone to replace your heart
Everyone I turn to is just another not you
Makes me wonder how we're so far apart
I'm tired of imitations
Running out of patience
Trying to replace...
Replace your heart

Must be crazy if I let you go
You were everything I need to know
Come back home

Feels like I'm dying
Cause I keep on finding
Every junction leads to here
And I'm lost...

I'm running out of patience
Tired of imitations
Looking for someone to replace your heart
Everyone I turn to is just another not you
Makes me wonder how we're so far apart
I'm tired of imitations
Running out of patience
Trying to replace...
Replace your heart

Everywhere I turn is the wrong direction
Everything I see is the wrong reflection
Might be me that I just can't replace your heart

I'm running out of patience
Tired of imitations
Looking for someone to replace your heart
Everyone I turn to is just another not you
Makes me wonder how we're so far apart
I'm tired of imitations
Running out of patience
Trying to replace...
Replace your heart

I've been through the crowds
Called your name out loud
There's still no way to replace you

Been everywhere
Everywhere
Everywhere
Replace your heart

To replace your heart
Replace your heart (Nooo oh)
Ooooh
