Judas is our saving savior today look between your eyes at the path that lies ahead, when you break my spirit you will die into that tombstone with scattered bones next to your grave,

I just need your heart inside me forever you will never know how I feel inside our dead love as gone out the window,

I just knew you was the one for me you have broke the promise,

that we have kept for all these years I don't wanna hear your lies anymore.

Broken something must change,

broken your love will set me free,

broken hearts,

broken lies will be burie in your soul,

broken trust,

broken desires has gone away,

broken faith,

broken souls,

broken love.

When I was trap in a spell or charm your true love broke me free, when you open those eyes I will disappear just like the wind I can't breathe without you standing next to me, some girls broke my heart before but it's okay because I will live on and let go of those bad dreams and memories.

Broken just feel the love,

broken don't burn my heart out,

this heart has been broken for many years, my life has broken to pieces forever,

broken each step will bring us closer together,

broken faith,

broken love.

Before I met them everything was fine but they just blew my mind away everytime I look at them, each day I just want them to hangout with me so we could get to know each other better, and talk about our relationships and friendships I just want you to know how I really feel about you,

I never talked to a girl before and I hope she likes me for who I am.

Broken desires has gone away,

broken something must change,

broken your love will set me free,

broken faith,

broken love.

Girls just don't know how I feel today do you want me in your life,

this will built tension between us the faith has left your soul and it will never come back to you, we became friends for the first time you must feel the burn as love ends tonight, please just spend a day with me because I got no one to talk to,

and you could see what my life is like.

Broken just feel the love,

my has broken to pieces forever,

broken each step will bring us closer together,

broken your lies will be burie in your soul,

broken faith,

broken love.
