It's really the reason that we lie today now what do you see again defeating my figure taken from the above, about to walk so we can all define your line out of my window,

maybe this darkness was taking over because it wanted to live inside still breathing oxygen into our deadly systems, and everything change when we blow your brains in our faces.

Deadshots,

my killers are running through yo city deadshots,

deadshots,

my killers are running through yo city deadshots.
