Undescribe motions we dial weird numbers break each celluar phone right to the ground, don't touch me I am awaken from this nightmare poems writing the designs all around, feeling overrated pick up some scars but my chance has fallen just growing up to be, chaseing robbers in that dream of yours, getting wasted see people notice the strange look in my eyes these addicted notes was dropping in you, because those blooded monsters was found in me, almost there they must come get it now we got them professional solutions, when killed we will not fall into the wrong hands, gotta find hidden treasures in boxes, and then my important task of secrets has been locked away before born of history.

Fallen,

just gotta die when fallen, we had fallen in some time zone, keep me fallen in this place, those fallen ghosts are here to stay, these fallen things are above me, we can't stop fallen all around, please save us from fallen,

I saw you fallen in them, nothing was fallen between danger,
fallen.
