Exploitable consent travels around when we combine our rage with love wow you can't testified against me even though everything will die, just beating submerged forms outta you, why won't they reveal their self exculpations to our world,

we are watching as the serpent eats, me fully alive I keep shedding tears when it doesn't come back.

Fell apart into the next level,

why doesn't anything turn good for me fell apart into
the next level,

the next level.
