

The Warriors Of Destruction

"No More Or Else"

We built and design this rhyme to make them see what it feels like most of the day, that will set us free from your average thoughts, but playing the game if you're the king and bow down so do not fall on those knees, or my worst nightmare will come for now probably it's over again.

No more or else,

come see if you can take the hurt in my system no
more or else,

no more or else,

more or else.
