I wanted to regret for loving you they shouldn't be treating us like that I'm not afraid of being ashamed by anyone,

okay let's make a promise because I don't ever wanna lose your smile, after I would despair of ever being good or nice for all these fakes we are using the same phrase again, never innovative those losers who think they are better than everybody else please let me identify my own truth within that's inside me, do you see the irony taking over your face yet.

Playing truth or dare,

just be freaky all night when we was in the mood
playing truth or dare,

playing truth or dare,

playing truth or dare.
