

The Warriors Of Destruction

"Pretend"

Visit "Pretend" on MotoLyrics.com

(Intro)

When I met you, we became friends

But it's like, you pretended to be one to me.

(Verse 1)

Every day I try, to be a friend to you

But suddenly, I always end up getting hurt by you

Isn't it useless that you don't understand, what's going on

I don't care anymore, you are just full of pretend.

Why is it so difficult, to make things work with you

When you didn't reply,

This made me respond, thinking that you're not who you seemed to be.

(Chorus 1)

I'm moving on, just sick of being your victim and trying to make it work,

I knew becoming your friend, would lead to this

As I go in the other direction, I don't care anymore

Because I'm done wasting my time, with you.

(You're just full of pretend).

I'm leaving you behind, don't come chasing me

To put these shatter pieces together,

Because things is never gonna be the same, with you.

(You're just full of pretend).

While I am searching for someone to take me in,

They always ended up being you and it never seems good,

But things are gonna change,

Because I wont let it happen again.

(You're just full of pretend).

(Verse 2)

Every time I tried to speak to you, you ignored you

And made it clear that you didn't wanna listen, to what I had to say

I can see you for, who you really are

Maybe breaking this friendship apart,

Will be the best for both of us.

Because we hardly know each other that well,

Sorry, if I am being such a bother to you.

Eventually after a year past, this bond has been torn

I've worn the shame and you won the game,

Still it seems like you are not hearing me out, with these words I tell.

(Chorus 2)

I'm moving on, just sick of being your victim and trying to make it work,

I knew becoming your friend, would lead to this

As I go in the other direction, I don't care anymore

Because I'm done wasting my time, with you.

(You're just full of pretend).

I'm leaving you behind, don't come chasing me
To put these shatter pieces together,
Because things is never gonna be the same, with you.
(You're just full of pretend).

While I am searching for someone to take me in,
They always ended up being you and it never seems
good,
But things are gonna change,
Because I wont let it happen again.
(You're just full of pretend).

(Bridge)

This incident, taught me to only trust those who are
true to you

This incident, taught me to only trust those who are
true to you

This incident, taught me to only trust those who are
true to you

This incident, taught me to only trust those who are
true to you

(Verse 3)

It's like you don't remember me anymore and you gave up on me,

Barely you never understood who I was, why are you treating me, this way for

In the moment as you walked away, I realize that it wouldn't last.

As I try to break, I keep coming back to you

I fell into believing your masquerade kindness,

Can you imagine how I felt, when you depict no interest

I became mostly upset and depress, because it was never worth saving.

There's nothing left to be said, you're just to self righteous

I've played the fool, but who's to blame

Isn't it my fault that it cant't never be the same

You never appreciated what was at value, so I'll just let go.

(Chorus 3)

I'm moving on, just sick of being your victim and trying to make it work,

I knew becoming your friend, would lead to this

As I go in the other direction, I don't care anymore

Because I'm done wasting my time, with you.

(You're just full of pretend).

I'm leaving you behind, don't come chasing me

To put these shatter pieces together,

Because things is never gonna be the same, with you.

(You're just full of pretend).

While I am searching for someone to take me in,

They always ended up being you and it never seems good,

But things are gonna change,

Because I wont let it happen again.

(You're just full of pretend).

Visit The Warriors Of Destruction page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.