Showed me around your house of pain
I built the wall and stripped away your rage
Showed me all the parts that hurt
I fixed it with the love that I burned with you

Even when I see your eyes
I wonder where are you
Even when I'm inside
I wonder where the hell are you
Where the hell are you

Showed me where the feelings lacked
I filled you up until you cracked, I knew
Said I damn well knew
When the drops spill to the floor
Just like a dog you beg for more, I knew
Said I damn well knew

Even when I see your eyes
I wonder where are you
Even when I'm inside
I wonder where the hell are you

Oh man aren't I heavy
Oh man aren't I deep
Oh man aren't I some real thing
Oh man aren't I sweet
Aren't I sweet baby?

Little girl with your juice of gold
How many cupfuls have you let pass through
I think it's time I knew

Even when I see your eyes
I wonder where are you
Even when I'm inside
I wonder where the hell are you
Where the hell are you
