How come everybody keeps moving but me
How come nobody can see what I see
It's not fair man, they can't leave
Didn't get a chance to feel my disease

All these people keep licking my bones
Steal my religion and empty my soul
I have danced with the burning seas
Lord put me here to spread my disease

I am feeling, feeling the falling
I am feeling, feeling the falling

Stand in the corner, biding my time
Someday they will all be mine
I have become a vessel of God
Doubt my word and you will rot
You will rot, see you rot, you will rot

Hey there Mama don't be sad
Your little boy has become a man
I have grown to see the light
Suck the daylight into night
Take away light into night

I am feeling, feeling the falling
I am feeling, feeling the falling

Falling...and tonight

Truth be told man I'm real scared
Crossed the line 'cause I was dared
It's too late, no turning back
Seen too much and now I've cracked
