Dreamt I turned my head around last night
And I got up saw you sleeping
Yeah you were shaking
What am I to do I've lost my father now
Will I be alright yeah will I make it

You're still in my life today
You're still in my thoughts ok
You're still in my life today
You're still in my life

Who on God's great earth can take a life of strength and fire
And just start weeping from the outside in What I'm thinking now I'm taking all the blame for It's been relieving you leaving

You're still in my life today
You're still in my thoughts ok
You're still in my life today
You're still in my life today

I'm sad he's gone

How can I survive without my friend of mine
He was not perfect yet somehow perfect
What am I to do I've lost that part of me
Will I be alright yeah will I make it

You're still in my life today
You're still in my thoughts ok
You're still in my life today
You're still in my life today

I'm sad he's gone

Nothing's ever as bad as it seems to be
And I know I've been taken by my wicked dreams

Sad he's gone
