If I'm thinking for two
I've got a lot of sweet drinking up to do
He reminds me of a drummer that I once knew
Just passing through

And I went with the flow
Now I know what I know
That was then, this is now
And I understand how
How I know
Where to go

And I cancelled that call
I thought about it and I want it all
So I picked up the pieces you left on the floor
And went out for more

And I went with the flow
Now I know what I know
That was then, this is now
And I understand how
How I know
Where to go

And I know that we took them by surprise
And I know we were right before their eyes
And it's about time
Yeah it's about time

So I walked through the door
They looked right at me, but could not ignore
And the drinks were expensive, stories were told
And I had a ball

And I cancelled that call
You though about it and you want it all
So you picked up the pieces I left on the floor
And walked out that door

And I went with the flow
Now I know what I know

That was then, this is now
And I understand how
How I know
Where to go

And I know that we took them by surprise
And I know we were right before their eyes
And it's about time
Yeah it's about time
Yeah it's about time
