(Yeah, nice one [done]...)

There's a light in my room so that it's always night or day

I know that being responsible will help me find my way

Well I'd swim an ocean to be around it

But I've been swimming since the age I found it

The sweet affliction, people are different

Feeling my head is my home (head is my home), better than feeling alone

CHORUS:

There's something weird (x3)

There's something weird going on in my head

There's something weird (x2)

There's something weird going on in my head, something weird going on in my head

Take me away from all the silence and the pain

Far from the growing ring of greed and personal gain

Well I'd find a shelter, I'd be an outlaw

To dry myself off from the bullshit downpour

Don't need a reason, you don't deserve one

Just my amnesia time (easier time), 'cos in the back of my mind

CHORUS:

There's something weird (x3)

There's something weird going on in my head

There's something weird (x2)

There's something weird going on in my head

I never knew I could leave here

I never knew it was so easy

Well I never knew it, I never knew I could fly

{2112 Rush-like bit!}

Hey-Hey-Hey!

Wooah, yeah...

I'd swim an ocean to be around it

But I've been swimming since the age I found it

The sweet affliction, I think you're different

Feeling my head is my home (head is my home), better than feeling alone

CHORUS:

There's something weird (x3)

There's something weird going on in my head

There's something weird (x2)

There's something weird going on in my head

(x3)

Something weird (x24)
