There's a flower that sits on the window cill
Watching the tears pass by & it's starting to fade just like flowers will
When there's no sun in the sky
& I'm in the dark
I'm completely numb
Like a shadow that's turned to stone
Tryin' to figure out
How that two become one
Then end up so alone

I'm broken, wide open
You've shattered all we had
And I'm through with hoping
Somehow I'm gonna put the pieces back
I've cried me an ocean
Now there's nothing left inside
I'm here not knowing
Where do you go when the tears run dry

I try going left but I don't feel right
No matter which way I turn
Feels like I'm moving counter clockwise
The bridges have all been burned

& I'm calling out
Are you hearing me
I don't know where I belong
It's so unclear
Why do I wish you here
When I'm already gone

Oeh oehh

I'm broken, wide open
You've shattered all we had
And I'm through with hoping
Somehow I'm gonna put the pieces back
I've cried me an ocean
I'm here not knowing

Where do you go when the tears run dry

Maybe I should run away
Maybe I should disappear
Maybe I should find a place
Where I'd be happier
Anywhere but here

I'm broken, wide open
You've shattered all we had (all we had)
& I'm through with hoping
Somehow I'm gonna put the pieces back
I've cried me an ocean (an ocean)

I'm broken, wide open (wide open)
You've shattered all we had
& I'm through with hoping
Where do you go when the tears run dryyyy
When the tears run dryyyy

Ohw yeahyeahh.
