[Chorus x2:]

She loves me, she loves me not it makes no difference, there's a part for her in my world, in mmmyyyy world hearts cast shadows on the mind clouding judgment that rewinds me to a time when i still believed in people

I'm just a zombie in my veins there is no feeling I step back and watch unamused while somebody else is living my life

It's not what it seems i think I'm just stuck in someones sick and twisted dreams

[Chorus x2]

Just when i thought i had fallen from grace the human race is a disgrace felt love so strong that i could taste and i walk amongst the living

I am not a monster, wasn't this way by design guess I've been fucked over just one too many times

there's nothing left to cause me harm so put my broken soul to rest and bury me bury me in your arms
