[x4]

Why did you go when i wanted you stay when your not beside me you always seem so far away understanding moments where you need to be free but of all the things i wanted i never wanted you to leave

Why did you go when i wanted you stay
when your not beside me you always seem so far away

time keeps slipping around us i wish it would stand still world keeps moving even faster there's never time to do all the things we need to do now.
