Somewhere in the country
There's a place
Where nobody knows who I am

When I'm feeling lonely
There's a train
That helps me run away

I know my mama
She always told me
The road would get cold

I never listen
Always forget
The way back home
The way back home

Somewhere in the city
There's a place
That makes it hard to escape

Well he never listened to me
When I said
That things were gonna change

I know my mama
She always told me
The road would get cold

I never listen
Always forget
The way back home
The way back home
The way back home

I know my mama
She always told me
The road would get cold

I never listen
Always forget

The way back home
Uh oh

I never listen
Always forget
The way back home
The way back home
