

The Years Gone By "Dangerous Blues"

Visit "Dangerous Blues" on MotoLyrics.com

All I do is lie
By the oceanside
Why do the clouds all turn grey
Just for you?
I've never been such a beautiful blues

Step outside your door
And go down to the shore
Why do your eyes feel like shells
In a dune?
What makes a crowd turn away from a tune?
I've never bloomed such a beautiful blues

Even the tide gets high at night
Even the truth is wrong sometimes

All I want to do
Is dig a hole with you
Feet are no stranger to the undertow
Wind won't decide which way to blow
But we will never leave
You're all that's left for me
This is our home
We just don't have a door
Euphoria is a risk on the floor
The words keep on crawling
From under the rug
Who knew that love was a dangerous drug?

Even the tide gets high at night
Even the truth is wrong sometimes
Sometimes

Who knew that love was a beautiful blues?
Who knew that love was a dangerous drug?
Now I know love is a beautiful drug
I know that drug is a dangerous love
I know now love is a dangerous blues.

