A part of you left the room
I am left talking to the apple

She comes to me when I dream
I'm tired of counting sheep to see her,
I sleep because I need her
And everybody knows it but you

A wedding ring is just a thing
That weighs you down
And occupies your finger
I know it sounds a little down,
But love is all I'm really after

She comes to me when I dream
I'm tired of counting sheep to see her,
I sleep because I need her
And everybody knows it but you,
But you
And everybody knows it but you

I hope you're all listening,
I'm pouring out my heart for paper
A part of me still believes
That love is all I'm really after

She comes to me when I dream
I'm tired of counting sheep to see her,
I sleep because I need her
And everybody knows it but you,
But you
Everybody knows it but you

Everyone but you knows,
Everyone but you.
