The ravens on the ropes are telling us
The signs, through sight and sound

One whispers to the other and it says,
"The views so good up by the city lights,
but touch and we die
Touch and we die"

Hey, you're a star
And everything is golden
Hey, all you have to do is believe
And nothing is too far away
Hey, you're a star
And everything is golden,
Everything is
Alright

One whispers to the other and it says,
"I feel so lost without you by my side
No electric energy, pushing at our wings
You almost kissed in my dreams
And I'm not too well, no I'm not alright,
I've got something to say
Cause I've been watchingâ€¦!"

Hey, you're a star

And everything is golden

Hey, all you have to do is believe

And nothing is too far away

Hey, you're a star

And everything is golden,

Everything isâ€¦

Hey, I feel we're coming close

But you don't understand

That if we touch you're dying in my hands

Hey, you're a star

And everything is golden

Hey, all you have to do is believe

And nothing is too far away
