Talk to me and whisper every dirty secret that you want

To do to me, I'll do to you

We'll turn up the radio and listen

To drown out the sound of every move

It's hard to think, to think I'm lying next to you

I'm drunk from one kiss,

I'm a dead man walking when I make it in

When your eyes roll back in bliss

I know I won't forget your lips

I'm drunk from one kiss,

I'm a dead man walking when I make it in

When your eyes roll back in bliss

I know I won't forget your lips

America taught her how to be beautiful

Shy, but she's my maverick in a village of killers

And I'm her number one sinner, oh

But when I have to close my eyes

I confess I've tried to find fault in the words she writes

But I've never found a reason not to trust her eyes

Bet if I tried I could never find

Another girl better than you

I'm drunk from one kiss,
I'm a dead man walking when I make it in
When your eyes roll back in bliss
I know I won't forget your lips
I'm drunk from one kiss,
I'm a dead man walking when I make it in
When your eyes roll back in bliss
I know I won't forget your lips
Don't be gone too long
Cause I really miss your smile
I really miss your beat next to mine
One wish, fulfill my sinful bliss
It's tearing me apart
I'm drunk from one kiss,
I'm a dead man walking when I make it in
When your eyes roll back in bliss
I know I won't forget your lips
I'm drunk from one kiss,
I'm a dead man walking when I make it in
When your eyes roll back in bliss
I know I won't forget your lips
