How could you do this to her?
She gave it all up, she trusted you she let you in and you sold her out and this is what you've got to show for appreciation!

I hope the taste of her skin was worth your teeth worth your teeth and I hope the taste of blood is the satisfaction you're looking for and the end of the night, did it all feel right?
How can you live with the choices you have made?

Two separate hearts, will be torn apart
I won't let you continue this charade
I won't let you continue this charade

you betrayed her in front of my eyes and I see through all of your lies Remember!
There's no where you can run where I won't find you there's no where for you to run there's no where for you to hide, I swear that I will be the one that finds you the liar and the gentlemen you're walking alone down this dark and lonely road you betrayed the only person to ever give you a home
