My heart is so heavy
I used to be confident
just lay here and say that you meant it just tell me its alright just to call me yours for one more night

Can't you give me jsut another minute just a moment to remember all i've lived
can't you give me jsut another minute
just a moment to remember all i've lived

To think you had me fooled just swear to me
just promise me anything
this isn't happening

My heart is so heavy
I used to be confident
I've never been clever with words and i'll never own up to this

Just call me crazy
call me crazy
don't say it,
call me a liar
don't say it,
convince me again
why should I be doing this?
other then the obvious don't be so full of this it's not like this meant anything

My heart is so heavy

with words and i'll never up to this

I just find this so hard to believe say something, something anything

You say these words, to no one but yourself
OH
and you say these words,
to no one but your self

Just drop it we'll never touch this subject again
I didn't expect it, forget it I'll just let it go but you look beautiful tonight bring your face out into the light everyone is watching us tonight Tonight, tonight

So please stop your crying, your make up is running it even hurts for me to watch to watch, to watch

So please stop your crying,
