I know what you're thinking it's too far gone but i can feel you breathing it comforts and all i hear is your voice from down the hall you're every where escape me
you cannot

we've had our chance if you live you're life by those rules you'll miss out everyone's all caught up in their own lives
we're the only ones that matter when it comes to us you're the shape that makes me you're the axe that brings me down make me feel so empty cause' you turn my insides out when it's cold make me bold just like i've never been what you do like a muse why can't we just be friends cause' you push me you pull me down yeah you push me you pull me down common' push me and pull me down with you you're always running like a train off the tracks weaving figure eights around my neck
