I remember those times
And those hushed results
Knocking on the walls when you were not around
Although we never did see
The beginning of what we all want.

And I'll cling cling to the things I'm missing
Sing sing till you're revisiting
The past few feelings we have left alone.

Reeling from the outcome like I have before
I had never thought to Turn and let go of of
Let go of everyone

I'll cling cling to the things I'm missing
Sing sing till you're revisiting
The past few feelings we have left alone
I'll crawl until you pick me up
Swing like a ragdoll in your palm
Forever and always you're the subject to my neverending song

You seem to pick
The perfect holes in everyone
You saw me moving step by step in the right way
You'd never let me get past your self obsession
But I chose to quit
So get over yourself, I have

Cling cling to the things I'm missing
Sing sing till you're revisiting
The past few feelings we have left alone
I'll crawl until you pick me up
Swing like a ragdoll in your palm
Forever and always
You're the subject to my neverending song.
