

Thin White Rope

"The Napkin Song"

Visit "The Napkin Song" on MotoLyrics.com

Guy Kyser)

Out eating burgers in a friend's car
Each paper napkin has a happy star
Deep in the trash can they begin to sing
"Swee what a life of innocence brings"
These things don't make me sad today

There comes a time when everyone's plans
Fall like a dog from a truckbed grandstand
Fall like a red snow on the freeway
"I could have done all these things," he said
"And maybe I could have loved you
But I'll pretnd I'm above it now."

Night bugs come through the window crawling
Dead man's shirts in the closet calling
"Why didn't you write before I died?"
I would've-but I don't know what to say
To my best friend

Visit Thin White Rope page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.