We remember these times head hung
Remorse resides
Who will be the one
Then it's all illusions carried transcend this lifeless crime
And we will cross your fucking line
They will follow
And they will burn the stolen gift
To choose your death will save yo

The strength of belief extracted by social power
The call of defeat embraced with every passing hour
This will be the one
The one you die for
This will be the life
The life you lived for
Who will be the one they will follow
And they will burn the widows collapsing chest
The strength of belief extracted by a social disaster
The call of defeat
Engulfed with every passing encounter
This will be the one
The one you die for
This will be the life
The life you lived for
