

Thine Eyes Bleed "Shallow Skin"

Now these enchanting whispers
Fall from blackened trees
Spirits rising from your grave
Voices fall remembering
Scattered
Weightless
In dying need sprawl across heavens
Ashes with dignity god can't help you
We walk and carry our shadows now
Our tolerance is lost
Incarcerate this heart of stone
Shallow skin withholds direction we take relentlessly
Frozen mind of self destruction ___ to carefully
Scattered
Weightless
In dying need
Sprawl across heavens ashes and kill me
Dive into this abandoned city
Where we crawl on our hands and knees
I'm screaming for mercy but heavens door is closed
Now these enchanting whispers fall from blackened trees
Spirits rising from your grave
Voices fall remembering
Scattered
Weightless
In dying need
Sprawl, across heavens ashes and kill me
