Would you believe it
The brilliant girl with the famous thighs
Then the camera clicks and then we are stars
Laughing in the back of chauffeured cars
Phone call rings and your voice is desire
Then winter moves into summer fires
I promised you what's ours is ours
Somewhere backstage with Sean and Lars
I go crazy when you walk in the room
I laugh at myself with the girl in bloom
The taste of sex couldn't be too soon
All afternoon then
LA parties in the phony lands
Bony grabs with the manicured hands
I always thought you are pretty like a whip
But I should've watched my step

'cause I keep on forgetting myself
And I keep on forgetting myself
I keep forgetting myself and
I keep on forgetting myself

I keep on forgetting myself
And I keep on forgetting myself
Who am i?
We both don't know
Time ticks by, where did it go?

You always knew where you were going to
So sweetly you said please come with you
The biggest fear running through my head
When you said you loved me you meant what you said
I was floating - did it go to my head?
We always sleep with the dogs on the bed
LA parties in the vodka fizz
This is not my life or maybe it is

And I keep on forgetting myself
And I keep on forgetting myself
I keep forgetting myself and
I keep on forgetting myself

I keep on forgetting myself
And I keep on forgetting myself
Who am i? we both don't know
Time ticks by, where did it go?

Oh I make you doubt me
Oh I don't know why
You're better off without me

Think I'm looking over your shoulder
'cause there's someone younger and you're feeling older
You're crazy 'cause you never faded
Don't want to be so complicated
See my life come undone
I watch it go and let the damage run
I'd change this song now if I could
In the slickness of your blood

I keep on forgetting myself
And I keep on forgetting myself
I keep forgetting myself and
I keep on forgetting myself (where did you go?)

I keep on forgetting myself
And I keep on forgetting myself
Who am i? we both don't know
Whoa whoa whoa where did you go?

Where did you go now?
Where did you go?
Where did you go?
Where did you go?
Where did you go?

Hello hello hello...
