Going through it
___ the rain off my face
There's someone watching
A pretty girl
Stands next to me
When she looks up she sees a rainbow
And for all that
The music plays
In my head
I feel separation

When the light that hits the room starts fading
A subtle whisper in my ear is all I'm asking
As the sunshines, it brings hope to most
But I still want the rainbow

I'm sitting here all alone
I dont need my fucking phone
But I got my expectations
So they ain't that great
I still feel a thump in my chest
And Ive never backed down from no one
It doesn't get me closer to you
Just because I cant pray
It doesn't mean I don't feel you

When the light that hits the room starts fading
A subtle whisper in my ear is all I'm asking
As the sunshine days bring hope to most
I still want the rainbow

When the light that hits the room starts fading
A subtle whisper in my ear is all I'm asking
When a sunshine day brings hope to most
I want to be with you
When the light hits the room starts fading
When the light that hits the room starts fading

Going through it
___ the rain
Off my face
Theres someone watching

A pretty girl stands next to me
When she looks up she sees a rainbow
And for all that
The music plays
In my head
I feel separation
