Scribble the sweetness concealed by your lips
Sending this promise that's clenched by your fist
Echoes falling short the distance
All these efforts make no difference
Now that i'm writing our names out in full
Say it in inside one thousand times
One and one together can still become zero
One and one zero zero
These tracks, they can't lead me back to you
These tracks, i have they wont lead me back to you
These criss-crossed steps
Short deep breaths
They wont lead me back to you
"but it wont be long" and "i'll see you soon"
"yeah we'll keep in touch"
You said "we'll see this through"
It was a matter of time
Filed down our last romance
I replay the words that passed
As we slept with nothing left
As we slept with nothing ...
I watched you turn around
One and one together can still become zero
One and one zero zero
I watched you turn around
