That's sweet so innocent devine almost so perfect not in time
lets try this once again she said so keep that glimmer in your eye that smile i tried so hard to find

your right here, right now next to me your right here, your right here
your right here.

your just so picture perfect black and white your so effective lets try this once again she said

your hearts so un-protected back and forth your so romantic

your right here.

your right here, right now next to me
your right here
