We see the eyes look up in dark blue
Of all the ones that we leave behind
When we go all at sea to find a better way

We'll feel the love rush through our veins,
Let our feelings take the reins.
We know a fire burns that keeps us all alive.
And I'm all in, and that will never change
Yeah, I'm all in, and I am here to stay.

When you're so lost in oceans,
Out on the edge of giving up
And cutting ropes tied to everything you know
When the waves take all control
You've got no choice but to let it go.
I will find your sail
And I will rescue you.

I remember every late night,
When we let the stars control our lives
And your hand fell right into mine.

We'll feel the love rush through our veins,
Let our feelings take the reins.
And then our souls became one in the same.
I'm all in, and that will never change.

When you're so lost in oceans,
Out on the edge of giving up
And cutting ropes tied to everything you know
When the waves take all control
You've got no choice but to let it go.
I will find your sail
And I will rescue you.

I will never leave
You're the spirit feeding everything in me, yeah.
No, I will never leave
You're a symphony to me.

I remember every late night,

When we let the stars control our lives
And your hand fell right into mine.

When you're so lost in oceans,
Out on the edge of giving up
And cutting ropes tied to everything you know
When the waves take all control
You've got no choice but to let it go.
I will find your sail.
And I will rescue,
I'll rescue you. (I remember every late night)
Oh, you. (When we let the stars control our lives)
Oh, you. You.
Oh, you. (I remember every late night)
Oh, you. (When we let the stars control our lives)
Oh, you.

I will rescue you.
