Visit "Arise" on MotoLyrics.com

She has a way that is beautiful to behold
Movements of silence and calm
A universe of life folded up inside her
A symphony of strangeness and charm

And she knows

Every now and then there's an ocean of silver
Concealing herself as a stream
The scars in her life that she once tried to hide
Healing themselves as she breathes

And she knows
What she knows

Feel yourself arise
Feel yourself arise
You let yourself go
And tell yourself you'll know when you know

She has a way that is beautiful to behold
An every now and then you can see
A universe of light splashed in her eyes
Revealing the only light she needs

And she knows
What she knows

And you feel yourself arise
Feel yourself arise
You let yourself go
And tell yourself you'll know when you know
