I don't know what I can tell you
I don't know what else to say
That doesn't sound so cliché
I know that you get tired of trying
And feeling pain day after day
But I have to believe in faith

It will be okay
Here's my heartfelt cliché
It will be okay
Here's my heartfelt cliché

I can't say what you need answered
I don't know what else to try
And I also wonder why
I know that you get tired of thinking
How did things end up this way
But please believe in faith

It will be okay
Here's my heartfelt cliché
It will be okay
Here's my heartfelt cliché

What can I do, what can I say
You know I feel so helpless
I'm trying to pray everyday
You know I pray for you
Where are you coming from
I'm so sorry

It will be okay
(What else can I tell you)
Here's my heartfelt cliché
(What else can I say)
It will be okay
(I'm so sorry)
Here's my heartfelt cliché, cliché
