

This Is A Standoff

"There's A Little Lemoncello In Everyone"

Visit "There's A Little Lemoncello In Everyone" on MotoLyrics.com

Get out your passport, we're getting to the border and I think

I pledge allegiance to no flag cause no ones looking out for me

Another purpose, another list of things I'd soon forget
How many hours till we get there? our patience is running thin

It's wrong sometimes, please understand, forever destined touring in our band

It's in our hearts, don't question me, but say goodbye because we got to leave.

I think of Hamburg, I think of Spain, I dreamt that we were seen outside Ravenna

Heading east towards the Adriatic sea

Those wasted hours, staring through my window, where are we?

Those blurring lines identify me, been seeing them for years

Real life might strip away the look, my youth wont try to justify

I'd do this happily though no one might be listening

It's wrong sometimes, please understand, forever destined touring in our band

It's in our hearts, don't question me, but say goodbye because we've got to leave

It's wrong sometimes, please understand, forever destined touring in our band

It's in our hearts, don't question me

But say goodbye because we've got to leave tonight

Visit This Is A Standoff page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.