Outnumbered but not overwhelmed, can't measure up, we're in different realms Too many times they would chop me down, that was then, this is now Sticks and stones could never hurt me. destroying vermin, we don't need an army Engaged attack but they can't defend, completely unprepared for my revenge

Unprepared for my revenge!
Completely unprepared for my revenge!

Combat smoke with fire, end the empire

Face the mirror, accept the fault Everything was burned and covered in salt Dead and barren to the core, physically matching what you stood for
No longer satisfied with things that are fleeting
No longer satisfied with taking a beating Call for retreat, the battle is lost I've released the beast and embraced chaos

Chaos surrounding me, unleash the beast, it set me
free
The time has come to settle the score... let the blood pour!

Chaos surrounding me, unleash the beast, it set me
free
pour!

This grudge will lacerate the night, sky is bloody,
words covered in spite
Combat smoke with fire, end the empire
This grudge will lacerate the night, sky is bloody,
words covered in spite
Combat smoke with fire, end the empire

Falling empire burns to ashes

My revenge

It's my revenge

Beg forgiveness for all your sins

It's not the biggest but the coldest man that wins
