Sorry but sometimes playing the role and living the part,
Are just two separate things
We can let the show go on all night
But it doesn't mean a thing if we don't believe Show me something real,
Something more than Friday nights and sex appeal
Cause I've been dying just to make an entrance Trying just to not forget this

Just breathe and release all the fears that We've had all these years I swear if we take a little time Just breathe whoa, just breathe whoa One moment's all
we need

You could barely tell me it was getting hard to speak You lost your lines somewhere behind glassy eyes and rosy cheeks
One moment, one love One breath could be more than enough
One moment, one love

One moment, one love One breath could be more than
(Cause I've been dying just to make an entrance)
One moment, one love (Trying just to not forget this)

Just breathe and release all these fears that We've had all these years I swear it'll take a little time
Just breathe and release all the fears that
We've had all these years I swear if we take a little time
Just breathe whoa, just breathe, whoa One moment's all
we need
Just breathe One moment's all we need
