Well you s-s-stutter at the thought of being taken back
To all the times we would grow to know we never should've let this go

(Woah-oh-oh-oh)

We used to lay and watch the sun go down

(Leave this town)

You sent shivers through my core

I was begging for your love and more

Thinking back to when everything fell away

I found a little peice of comfort in this song

And we would sing

(Chorus)

If I could start from the beginning

Create the oceans and the cities

Light the sky with a million lights

Luminate the darkest nights

If I could start from the beginning

Woah oh

Well you t-t-told me that everything would be ok

When we'd stay up late and conversate

& all our love we had at stake

(Woah-oh-oh-oh)

& now I lay and watch the sun

But it's not much fun

'Cause we've never been alone before

Not begging for your love no more

Thinking back to when everything fell away

I find a little peice of comfort in this song

If I could start from the beginning

Create the oceans and the cities

Light the sky with a million lights

If I could start from the beginning

Woah oh

Moon will rise and the sun will fall

To the beat of our favorite songs
We'll be the king and queen of this never ending dream
If we could start from the beginning
(If we could start from the beginning)

So do I let go
Of everything that I knew
Reoccurring dreams
It's a routine
Just stay here with me
These lonely summer days
& the time we spent away
If we could start from the beginning

If I could start from the beginning
Create the oceans and the cities
Light the sky with a million lights
Luminate the darkest nights
If I could start from the beginning

If I could start from the beginning
Create the oceans and the cities
Light the sky with a million lights
Luminate the darkest nights
If I could start from the beginning
Woah oh
