I can see my fantasy, I'm so consumed in it.
What I see takes over me, I'm blind beyond repair.
It takes a hold on me so tight--a weight that does not give.
And when she's done, she throws me out--like doubt left in herself.

Yeah, I wanna have the right. I wanna feel the night--
around the stars.
'Wanna take a flight, and get back all my sight--around
the stars.

I can see all my words, I can... feel the warming breeze.
I can see through forests, I can... hear her breathe.
Walking for a thousand miles, I can see the road.
And at the end, I find I'm with her--sharing each's soul.

Yeah, I wanna have the right. I wanna feel the night--
around the stars.
'Wanna take a flight, and get back all my sight--around
the stars.

Walking a solo mile--trying to realize.
God, I'm so mixed up.
I will find you.

I wanna have the right. I wanna feel the night--around the stars...
'Wanna take a flight, get back all my sight--around the stars.
Yeah, I wanna have the right. God, I wanna feel the night--around the stars.
I wanna have the right. I want to feel the night--around the stars.
As the ink runs deep, it left me a mark--scares my heart.
