I follow my heart where your direction may lead me
I got no worries the way you'll take will be mine Sometimes the road's narrow and we can't share the same lane
Ah but through hollow and sandstorm I'll walk the line

I will try To get back to you
Someday when you want or need me around

Quick sands swallow me when I look back through time I was trapped in the future, the construct of a child's mind
Raised my hand to grab there your love within reach Held my head not to suffer from the unknown, the bad, the vile

Chorus x2

My love is yours
My heart's your home
We shall never fall again
My love is yours
My heart's your home
We shall never fall again
