Hey, Hey
She is the truth she is the only reason why She's the horizon where the ocean touches sky, and I Wanna feel her all around me, but I'm stuck inside her world where I am Losin' always losin'
Will I come upon that day
When I feel it all becomes to much to take
I think of the place where I pretend she waits, waits

Woah, I can feel it it's rising right through my chest I'm carried away, I'm carried away when I'm lost and in distress
She is my lighthouse, she's got her light shinin' on me
She is my lighthouse, when it gets much too dark to see she turns it on
She turns it on, woah

Her love is a beacon, it helps guide my thinkin'
And focus on comin' through right on back into her arms where I'm greeted by her and I remember nights alone as a vagabond
When I feel it all becomes to much to take
I think of the place where I pretend she waits, waits

Woah, I can feel it it's rising right through my chest I'm carried away, I'm carried away when I'm lost and in
She is my lighthouse, she's got her light shinin' on me
She is my lighthouse, when it gets much too dark to
see she turns it on

Can you wanna pick me up
Do you wanna leave your heart and watch me go away again
Is my word alone enough
Can anything that I say take the place of me When I am gone keep holding on

Woah, I can feel it it's rising right through my chest

I'm carried away, I'm carried away when I'm lost and in
She is my lighthouse, she's got her light shinin' on me
She is my lighthouse, when it gets much too dark to
see she turns it on
She turns it on....
