Here I am

Her heart is torn with pain and fear, her anger starts to rise
She says no words but you can tell the trouble in her eyes
The guilt and shame she feels each day, fueled by her regrets
Lost in maze of confusion and sorrow so she finally says
these words
She finally says these words...

Here I am, take me back, I'm longing for your face
Here I am, on my knees, asking for your grace
Once again, I'm in this place, I'm in this phase
Take me back; I'm crying out, Lord would you please
Lord would you please...

Here I am... here I am my Jesus
Here I am... with all my broken pieces
Here I am... I'm running back to you
I'm running back to you!
For I belong to you!

Here I am, take me back, I'm longing for your face
Here I am, on my knees, asking for your grace
Once again, I'm in this place, I'm in this phase
Take me back; I'm crying out, Lord would you please
Lord would you please...
