No more boarding up my windows
So that I can lay low
Nobody's home
No more trying to run away from
Tired of being afraid of
What I can't control
The hardest part I'm always told
Is letting go

Safe and sound knowing that You're big enough
To wrap around my heart completely
Safe and sound just knowing that You know me

I can finally set my heart free
Lost within the mystery
Of this love I've found
There is nothing that can pull me
From the hand that holds me
I'm safe and sound
The hardest part I'm always told
Is letting go

Safe and sound knowing that You're big enough
To wrap around my heart completely
Safe and sound just knowing that You know me

Safe and sound knowing that You're big enough
To wrap around my heart completely
Safe and sound just knowing that You know me
