Turn around so I can see you smile
Before you go
We'll park the car, we'll turn of the engine
We'll talk until the morning comes
Why are you here in my life?
Why did you let me in?
Don't you dare leave

Here in this moment
We are the only ones alive
And the temperature changes
Suddenly it's so warm inside
So how do I know when I'm falling love?
How do I know when I'm falling love?

Turn around, there's so much that's left unsaid
No need to speak
Communicate in wavelengths we cannot hear
So hidden but so obvious
Something so strange how you read
Me like an open book
But what does that mean?

Here in this moment
We are the only ones alive
And the temperature changes
Suddenly it's so warm inside
But is it the real thing?
Is this what I've been waiting for?
I guess I'll never know

How do I know when I'm falling love?
How do I know when I'm falling love?

Gone is the moment
We were the only ones alive
Now the silence is broken
Suddenly we don't miss the time
It's not the real thing
It's not what we've been waiting for
Maybe some other time

I know, I know I'm not falling in love
I know, I know I'm not falling in love
